Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour

The Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour is responsible for increasing immigration, improving and supporting settlement services and promoting multiculturalism, repatriating and attracting people from outside of the province.

The Department is your gateway for finding help and support in New Brunswick. Some helpful programs and tools offered by the Department include:

Web portal: www.gnb.ca/immigration

This website offers newcomers information about all aspects of the immigration and settlement process in New Brunswick, before and after arriving in the province. The website also details information about immigration, language training, education, health care, doing business in New Brunswick, finding employment, etc. Publications to help newcomers to New Brunswick, like an Orientation Guide to the province, can also be found on the website.

Business support programs

The Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour is committed to providing programs that assist newcomers in conducting business in New Brunswick. The Department offers numerous resources for entrepreneurial newcomers, including:

- Three Self-Help Business Guides for Newcomers
- Business Mentorship Programs for Immigrants (in partnership with local business organizations) available in Fredericton, Moncton, Bathurst, Saint John and Edmundston
- In-Class Business Training
- English as Second Language (ESL) for Business

Facilitating the Opening of Immigrant Serving Agencies

Many newcomers to New Brunswick choose Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John as their final destinations. There are, however, many immigrants who prefer to settle in other parts of the province. In order to help facilitate the integration of all newcomers within the province's various regions the Department is working with community stakeholder groups and multicultural associations to establish settlement agencies in areas other than the province's three urban centers, as well as in francophone and rural areas.

The Department also offers a number of immigration-specific programs such as:

- Settlement support funding and multicultural grants
- Provincial Nominee Program

Contact

For more information about the Provincial Nominee Program or settlement and integration programs, please contact the Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour.

SECTION 1

Services Available to Newcomers in New Brunswick

Immigrant Serving Agencies provide a range of services that may vary based on region:

- Orientation Sessions offer newcomers a brief introduction to life in New Brunswick, including an overview of the education system, transportation, healthcare, etc.
- Information Sessions are held for newcomers about various topics important to newcomers, such as taxation, employment, etc.
- Immigrant Settlement Program provides general assistance with all areas of settling in New Brunswick and beginning a new life in Canada.
- English Language Classes are offered through English as a Second Language training, and range from entry level to Level 6 (as measured by the Canadian Language Benchmarks).
- French Language Programs Many Immigrant Serving Agencies offer on-site, and online French language classes, as well as French conversational groups.
- Child Minding Programs provide on-site childcare services for the children of language class students.
- The Conversation Club is an organization for people learning English to come together in order to practice their English conversation skills.
- Language Instruction for Newcomers to Canada (LINC) Home Study is a program for immigrants who are unable to attend regular language classes and who, through the program, can do language training at home by using computers, books and CD's.
- Enhanced Language Training (ELT) ELT is a labour-market oriented, upper-level English training program which is supplemented with employment preparation, assertiveness training, computer skills and work placement opportunities.
- Employment Counseling services provide newcomers with assistance in resume preparation, credential recognition, and job or volunteer work searching.
- Foreign Credential Recognition Immigrant Serving Agencies can provide information and support to newcomers, regarding foreign credential assessment and recognition.
- Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) Immigrant Serving Agencies offer portfolio development assistance to newcomers, as part of its PLAR process.
- Computer Access Centres allow public access to computers and internet, free of charge.
- Health and Well-Being for Immigrant Women is an educational and social organization for immigrant women.
- Training and Skills Development Program for Women provides leadership training, job and volunteer work preparation, and skill development programs for immigrant women.
- Immigrant Parent Support Group provides workshops for groups of immigrant parents based on the Parenting program developed by Department of Social Development.
- Newcomer Youth Group is a social and educational group offered to newcomer youth.

- Homework Club is a group, lead by local volunteers, who host a weekly Homework Club, in order to help newcomer children and youth study and complete their homework.
- Student Liaison Workers are representatives of an Immigrant Serving Agency who go into schools to assist newcomers with school registration, navigating the educational system, etc.
- Summer Camps are programs that provide activities and social opportunities for children during the summer months (newcomer and local children participate in these programs).
- Men's Group is a social and sport group for newcomer men. The group offers weekly activities such as movies, swimming, etc.
- Senior Drop-in Centres have programs where senior citizens are invited to socialize, exercise, and enjoy a light lunch.
- Volunteer Program is a program that matches community volunteers with newcomer families to help them integrate into the community more easily.

See the appendix for the complete list of Immigrant Serving Agencies in New Brunswick.

Language Training

Beyond the Immigrant Serving Agencies, many local organizations often offer language programs. These may include:

- universities
- colleges
- churches
- volunteer groups
- libraries
- ethno-cultural organizations
- YMCA

Some of these programs may be volunteer based, and others may charge tuition fees.

For more information about other language training opportunities, please contact your local Immigrant Serving Agencies (see the appendix)

Ethno-cultural organizations

Some ethno-cultural groups in New Brunswick provide informal voluntary settlement assistance and social networking opportunities.

Ethno-cultural organizations were originally formed by various groups of people with the same or similar cultural backgrounds, or who originated from the same countries. These organizations customarily organize cultural, social, recreational and sport activities for their members, or for the general public, and many also provide language training opportunities for newcomers, informal voluntary settlement assistance, and social networking opportunities.

Active ethno-cultural organizations in New Brunswick include:

- The New Brunswick African Association
- The Chinese cultural associations in Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John
- The Korean associations in Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John
- The New Brunswick Latino Association

There are also many other ethno-cultural organizations located in the various cities and towns across the province. For a complete listing of all of New Brunswick's ethno cultural organizations, and their contact information, please visit the New Brunswick Multicultural Council's website: www.nb-mc.ca, and look for information in the NBMC Members and Other Associations sections, or your contact your local Immigrant Serving Agency.

Service Canada

Service Canada provides clients with information about the various federal services and programs available, across Canada.

For example, Service Canada provides assistance and information about:

- Social Insurance Number (SIN),
- Employment Insurance (EI),
- Canada Child Tax Benefit (CCTB),
- Federal Student Work Experience Program (FSWEP)

Service Canada also offers CanTalk interpretation services, in Fredericton and Saint John. CanTalk is a third party telephone interpretation service that offers over fifty Aboriginal and foreign language interpretation services.

Permanent Resident Card

New immigrants should receive their Permanent Resident Card within one month of landing. If you do not receive the card by that time, please contact Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) by phone.

Toll-free, 1-888-242-2100,
Monday to Friday, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.
(in Canada only)

- The Permanent Resident card expires every five years (in order to retain your status as a permanent resident, you must live in Canada for at least two years within a five-year period).
- To learn more about the Permanent Resident card, or to learn how to apply for the card, please visit:

<http://www.cic.gc.ca>

Social Insurance Number (SIN)

You must have a Social Insurance Number (SIN) to work in Canada. You should apply for this as soon as you arrive. You may apply in person at a Service Canada office. See Section 1 for contact information and address.

Service Canada has CanTalk interpretation services in Fredericton and Saint John, which will help newcomers understand the information better in their language of choice. Please ask the officers at the centre for this service.

In New Brunswick, you may also apply for a Social Insurance Number (SIN) over the telephone:

Toll-free, 1-888-428-0888,
Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m.

For more information please visit:
www.servicecanada.gc.ca

New Brunswick health care card (Medicare)

New Brunswick permanent residents are eligible to apply for New Brunswick Medicare. All new applicants should visit the nearest Service New Brunswick (SNB) centre, to apply for coverage.

See Section 1 for contact information of Service New Brunswick centres.

You may also contact Medicare directly at:

1-506-453-8275;
or toll-free, 1-888-762-8600
(SNB Tele-services)
Website: www.gnb.ca
E-mail: medicare@gnb.ca

Family doctor and Clinics

Family doctors are your first stop for health care in Canada, so it is important to start looking for one right away, and not waiting until you have become sick.

Individuals covered by New Brunswick Medicare can access family doctors and hospitals, and do not have to pay for regular visits.

You may ask friends, neighbors, and immigrant settlement agencies to recommend a family doctor, or you may go to your local hospital and ask if there are any doctors taking new patients. Newcomers can also look in the Yellow Pages of the Phone Book, under "Physicians and Surgeons" to see a complete listing of local physicians, or call toll-free, 1-866-554-5959 to have your name added to the list of people looking for a doctor.

While you are waiting to be accepted as a patient by a family doctor, there are a number of walk-in or after-hours clinics you can go to for care.

Keep in mind that walk-in clinics do not take appointments – you arrive, register with the receptionist and wait. After-hours clinics may allow you to make an appointment.

To view a complete list of local healthcare clinics please refer to the New Brunswick Medical Society website at www.nbms.nb.ca/patients-2/after-hours-clinics-or-walk-in-clinics/.

Places to live (Rental and Purchase)

Rent

To find an apartment, room or house for rent:

- Look in the local newspaper classified sections, under "apartments for rent",
- Visit www.canadaeast.com classified listings
- Visit www.Kijiji.ca - a popular website that often lists accommodations for lease or share
- Search "Apartment" in the Yellow Pages of the Phone Book.

Keep in mind that leases may be yearly or monthly, and may require a security deposit. Rental rules about pets, smoking and apartment use may apply and some landlords may need advance notice before you move out.

Purchase

If you are interested in buying a house and need to find a realtor, look in the Yellow Pages of the Phone Book, under "Real Estate".

You may also do an independent search of various cities for homes or condominiums for sale at:

- www.realtor.ca
- www.kijiji.ca

Electricity

To have your electricity connected, contact NB Power: toll-free, 1-800-663-6272

Television, telephone, and internet

There are two major service providers in New Brunswick:

- Rogers, toll-free, 1-888-764-9441;
- Bell Aliant, toll-free, 1-866-425-4268
- For a full list of providers for cellular/wireless telephones and services, consult the Yellow Pages™.

Call one of these companies to arrange telephone service. You may be charged a connection fee on your first bill. After that, you will be billed once a month according to your agreement with the company.

You may obtain wireless (cell phone) service from one of the two major companies; however there are a number of other wireless service providers also available in the province.

Insurance (car, house, and personal)

In New Brunswick, residents are required to have car insurance and house insurance is required for most mortgages but not required by law. If you are renting a house or apartment, you may want to have rental insurance, although this is not required by law.

If interested, you also may purchase personal insurance including life, health and travel insurance. If you are looking for insurance information or providers, please check the "Insurance" section of the Phone Book.

Bank accounts

You may open an account at any bank of your choice, although you will require a government issued photo ID, and home address, in order to do so.

Banks available in NB include:

- TD Canada Trust
- Scotiabank
- Bank of Montreal
- CIBC
- HSBC
- Royal Bank
- National Bank
- Caisse Populaire
- Credit Unions

Many banks in Canada offer multiple language services, either by telephone or online, and some banks also offer information for Newcomers or New Canadians on their websites.

Credit

Credit is very important in Canada, and although you may already have credit in your home country, it is a good idea to work on establishing good credit here.

There are many ways to establish credit in Canada. For example, credit can be established through the use of credit cards, lines of credit, and loans.

Some banks may require new applicants to apply for a Secured Credit Card, which is a credit card linked to a savings account. The funds contained in the account may be claimed by the company issuing the card, in the event that the holder fails to make the necessary payments.

For more information about establishing credit in Canada, speak with one of the financial institutions listed above.

New Brunswick Driver's License

Visit any Service New Brunswick location to learn about the requirements for obtaining a New Brunswick license. If you need translation support with the driving tests, please contact Service New Brunswick for more information. See Section 1 for contact information and address.

If you are interested in attending driver training, you can find driving schools listed in the "Driving Instruction" section of the Phone Book.

Daycare for children

Lists of approved day cares and community day care homes are available from the Department of Social Development:

- Online at www.gnb.ca
- or, in the Yellow Pages under Child Care Services

Schools and post-secondary institutions

In New Brunswick, there are English and French school districts. Please contact the local school districts to obtain information about enrolling children in school. A complete list of New Brunswick school districts can be found at: www.gnb.ca

Please also note that all public schools in New Brunswick offer the same quality of education. All students are encouraged to attend schools near their home.

Post-secondary institutions in New Brunswick include English and French universities, faith-based universities, community colleges, private occupational training, and apprenticeship and certification programs. For a complete list of the post-secondary institutions in New Brunswick, please visit www.gnb.ca

Employment

Newcomers are encouraged to meet with employment counselors at local Immigrant Serving Agencies (for a full listing please see the appendix), or at the Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour. Employment counselors will be able to tell newcomers how to effectively look for jobs in New Brunswick.

Job seekers can also visit job listing websites, such as a website used by many employers: www.NBjobs.ca.

New Business

The Enterprise Agencies are often the first destination for people who are interested in starting a business in New Brunswick. The Enterprise Agencies provide business consultation and have business information and resources available for clients.
