Before you begin

Read this guide carefully to learn about what you need to do to submit a complete application to the New Brunswick Provincial Nominee Program (NBPNP).

The terms “family member” or “dependent” refer to any the following individuals:

- your spouse or common-law partner;
- your dependent child; or
- a child of your dependant.

To be considered a dependent, a child must meet either of the following definitions:

- be under 22 years old and not be married or in a common-law relationship; or
- be 22 years of age or older, have depended substantially on the financial support of the parent since before the age of 22, and be unable to support themselves financially due to a physical or mental condition.

You must provide details about your family members in your application, along with supporting documents, even if they are not immigrating to Canada with you.

Submitting an expression of interest is free of charge. If you are invited to apply, you must pay a non-refundable fee of CAN$250 through your INB portal account. There is no additional fee for family members included in your application.

You can pay with Visa, MasterCard, Discover, Amex, INTERAC Online, and Visa Debit.

This guide is provided free of charge by ImmigrationNB and is not to be sold.

If information on the ImmigrationNB website is different from the information in this program guide, the guide is considered correct. Always use the newest version of the guide.

Overview

This pathway may be right for you if you

1. have accepted a full-time, non-seasonal job offer that
  - is from an eligible New Brunswick employer who is willing to support your application
  - falls under one of the priority National Occupational Classification (NOC) codes specified in this guide
  - is a direct result of a recruitment mission led by the Government of New Brunswick;
2. have at least 1 year of paid work experience related to the job offer;
3. have an education level that meets the requirement of your position, according to the description of the NOC of the position;
4. demonstrate at least a level 4 in all 4 skills according to the Canadian Language Benchmarks (CLB);
5. intend and have the ability to live and work in New Brunswick permanently; and
6. are at least 19 years old.

The overview above only provides a quick summary. You must read the guide carefully to learn about all eligibility requirements.

Do not apply if you

- are currently enrolled in full-time post-secondary education in Canada;
- have an immigration application in process in any province or territory in Canada, including New Brunswick;
- have been refused for misrepresentation through any immigration program within the past 5 years;
- are living illegally in your current country of residence;
- have been refused admission to, or ordered to leave, Canada or any other country or territory;
- are working in Canada without authorization; or
- have an active or failed claim for refugee protection (asylum) or for humanitarian and compassionate consideration in Canada.

Stream roadmap

Status in Canada

If you are living in Canada during the immigration application process, you must maintain valid legal status. This means you must be authorized to enter and remain in Canada as a temporary resident for a specific period, whether as a visitor, student, or worker. Do not apply if you are in Canada without legal status.

MAINTAINED STATUS

You may apply for provincial nomination if you are a temporary resident with maintained status in Canada. Your status is maintained if you have applied to Immigration, Refugees, and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) to renew or extend your period of authorized stay before it expires.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

You are responsible for maintaining your status in Canada. ImmigrationNB cannot guarantee that your application will be processed before the expiry of your current status. Additionally, there is no guarantee that you will receive a provincial nomination.

If your current work permit is expiring soon, you can visit IRCC's Client Support Centre to learn more about renewing, changing, or extending your work permit. Your employer may also be able to support your work permit application by getting a Labour Market Impact Assessment (LMIA). Keep in mind that obtaining a new LMIA can be a lengthy process.

The federal government—through IRCC—is responsible for all decisions with respect to legal status, including the approval or refusal of your temporary status in Canada.

If you need personalized assistance, you may wish to contact a Canadian immigration lawyer or Regulated Canadian Immigration Consultant \(RCIC\).

If you are nominated, you may then be eligible to apply for a bridging open work permit (BOWP) or an employer-specific closed work permit. Refer to the Post-Nomination Guide for more information.

Eligibility

This section explains the eligibility requirements. For more details on the documents that you'll need to submit, see the "Required documents" section.

YOUR ELIGIBILITY

You must meet the eligibility requirements

- when you submit your expression of interest; otherwise, it will not be considered.
- at the time of application; otherwise, your application will be refused.

1. NB employment

Full-time, non-seasonal employment

You must have accepted a full-time, non-seasonal job offer from an eligible New Brunswick employer. This job offer must be genuine and unconditional. Furthermore, your employer must be willing to support your application.

Full time means at least 30 hours a week, which is 1,560 hours a year. Non-seasonal means year-round without an extended break.

Any time you receive employment insurance (EI) is considered a break in employment and therefore not eligible.

In the application, provide the following documents:

- Job offer, contract, or reference letter from your employer
- NB-004 Employment Information form

National Occupational Classification (NOC)

Identify the NOC code for your position in New Brunswick. Your supporting documents must show that the duties and responsibilities of your New Brunswick employment match the description of the chosen NOC code.

ImmigrationNB uses the NOC to assess similar jobs based on their duties, skills, aptitudes, and work settings in the Canadian labour market. The NOC helps determine whether the employer's labour needs are genuine and whether you will be able to perform the duties of the job offered to you.

ImmigrationNB may not accept certain NOC codes, taking into consideration New Brunswick's labour market conditions, current inventory of applications, yearly nomination allocations, and any other factors determined by the Government of New Brunswick.

Government-led recruitment & priority NOC codes

This job must have been offered to you as a direct result of a recruitment mission led by the Government of New Brunswick. It must be classified under one of the following NOC codes:

Healthcare

- 31301 – Registered nurses and registered psychiatric nurses
- 32101 – Licensed practical nurses
- 32109 – Other technical occupations in therapy and assessment
- 33101 – Medical laboratory assistants and related technical occupations
- 33102 – Nurse aides, orderlies, and patient service associates
- 33109 – Other assisting occupations in support of health services
- 44101 – Home support workers, caregivers, and related occupations

Education

- 41220 – Secondary school teachers
- 41221 – Elementary school and kindergarten teachers
- 42201 – Social and community service workers
- 42202 – Early childhood educators and assistants
- 43100 – Elementary and secondary school teacher assistants

Construction trades

- 70010 – Construction managers
- 70011 – Home building and renovation managers
- 72011 – Contractors and supervisors, electrical trades, and telecommunications occupations
- 72014 – Contractors and supervisors, other construction trades, installers, repairers, and servicers
- 72020 – Contractors and supervisors, mechanic trades
- 72102 – Sheet metal workers
- 72106 – Welders and related machine operators
- 72200 – Electricians (except industrial and power system)
- 72201 – Industrial electricians
- 72310 – Carpenters
- 72320 – Bricklayers
- 72401 – Heavy-duty equipment mechanics
- 72402 – Heating, refrigeration, and air conditioning mechanics
- 72500 – Crane operators
- 73100 – Concrete finishers
- 73102 – Plasterers, drywall installers, and finishers and lathers

- 73110 – Roofers and shinglers
- 73200 – Residential and commercial installers and servicers
- 73400 – Heavy equipment operators
- 75110 – Construction trades helpers and labourers
- 75101 – Material handlers

Competitive base wage

The base wage, as indicated on your supporting document, must be

- within the range of wages earned by workers in the same occupation in the specified region, according to Job Bank's labour market information; and
- consistent with the pay structure of your employer.

ImmigrationNB only considers your base wage. This means bonuses, commissions, tips, overtime, housing allowances, room and board, or other similar payments are not included in the calculation of your wage.

Designated or regulated occupation

If your New Brunswick employment is in a designated or regulated occupation, you need an appropriate license or certificate that allows you to work in this occupation. Your employer can help you with this.

2. Work experience

You must have at least 1 year of paid work experience, which is equal to a minimum of 1,560 hours acquired within the last 5 years in Canada or abroad. This experience

- must have been accumulated over a period of at least 12 months;
- must be related to your New Brunswick position (same or related NOC code); and
- may be with one or more employers.

In the application, provide a work experience supporting document, usually a reference letter. This document must show that you have performed duties and responsibilities that will enable you to carry out your New Brunswick job.

Each letter should be printed on the organization's letterhead and include the following elements:

- Your name
- The organization's address, telephone number, email address, and website
- The name, title, and signature of your immediate supervisor or of an authorized person of the organization
- Details of your employment, including all positions held, duties of each position, duration of employment, number of work hours per week, annual salary, and benefits

Other documents may be considered if they show similar information. If available, provide your pay stubs and tax documents from the same period.

If you worked in a designated or regulated occupation, include in the application a valid license or certificate during that period from the applicable certifying or regulatory body.

Self-employment experience may be accepted if you can provide third-party documents showing the information described above.

3. Education

Your education level must meet the requirements of your position in New Brunswick. The NOC system will be used to assess whether you have the required level of education.

In the application, provide the following documents:

- your official certificate, diploma, or degree; and
- your official transcript.

If the above documents are issued by an institution outside of Canada, you must also provide an educational credential assessment (ECA) for immigration purposes from a designated organization. Your ECA must be less than 5 years old at the time of application to ImmigrationNB. It must also show that your education is valid and is from a recognized institution.

4. Language skills

You must take an approved language test to assess your knowledge of English or French.

Your language test report must show that you have at least a level 4 in all 4 language skills—reading, writing, listening, and speaking—according to the Canadian Language Benchmarks (CLB). In French, the CLB is known as the Niveaux de compétence linguistique canadiens (NCLC).

The table below shows the minimum score you need to reach the required language skill level. You cannot combine your scores from multiple test reports if any of them shows a result below the required level.

Test	Reading	Writing	Listening	Speaking
IELTS – General Training	3.5	4	4.5	4
CELPIP – General Test	4	4	4	4
PTE Core	33	41	28	42
TEF Canada <sup>1</sup>	121	181	145	181
TCF Canada	342	4	331	4

Your results must be less than 2 years old at the time of application to ImmigrationNB.

5. Intent to reside and economic establishment in NB

You intend and have the ability to live and work in New Brunswick permanently. Proof of this may include, but is not limited to, the following:

- Current and future employment in New Brunswick
- Previous and current residences in New Brunswick, including rental and property ownership
- Other ties to New Brunswick, such as education or family
- Actions you have taken to permanently settle in New Brunswick
- Community involvement
- Professional networks and affiliations
- Commitment to prioritize to your ties in New Brunswick rather than elsewhere in Canada.

6. Age

You must be at least 19 years old.

YOUR EMPLOYER'S ELIGIBILITY

At the time of application, your New Brunswick employer must meet the requirements below to support your application; otherwise, it will be refused. Your employer may be contacted for further information.

1. Genuine and continuous active operations

Your New Brunswick employer must

1. have a valid registration to hire foreign workers with New Brunswick's Registry of Employers of Foreign Workers;
2. operate from a physical structure owned or leased by the employer;
3. have both a street and a mailing address in New Brunswick;
4. have clear signage for the organization at the location of operation;
5. have a telephone service in the organization's name;
6. have been actively operating in New Brunswick for the past 24 months;
7. be actively engaged in the New Brunswick operation; and
8. be in good standing with and not in violation of applicable provincial and federal laws, including but not limited to the Employment Standards Act (ESA), the Immigration and Refugees Protection Act (IRPA), and the Immigration and Refugees Protection Regulations (IRPR).

2. Genuine employer–employee relationship

Your New Brunswick employer must be involved in your hiring either directly or through a dedicated recruitment team they have formed or contracted. ImmigrationNB must be satisfied that your relationship with your employer is genuine. An employer, such as a placement agency, that hires you for another employer cannot support your application. Additionally, neither you nor your spouse or common-law partner can be a majority shareholder in the organization that is supporting your application.

3. Genuine labour shortage & recruitment

Your New Brunswick employer must have had demonstrated to the Government of New Brunswick (GNB) that local recruitment efforts have been unsuccessful, and as a result, were invited to participate in international recruitment missions led by GNB.

ImmigrationNB may ask your employer to provide further evidence that the job offer is a direct result of one of these missions.

4. Support

Your New Brunswick employer must be willing to support your application.

- This means they have offered you a full-time, non-seasonal job.
- They must complete and sign the NB-004 Employment Information form.
- They must also be willing to pay a federal compliance fee of CAN$230 and submit an offer of employment form through IRCC's Employer Portal if you need to obtain a work permit with their support. This fee cannot be recuperated from you in any way. If the employer is not willing to pay this fee and you cannot obtain a work permit by any other means, your application will be refused.

Application process

1. JOB OFFER

You have accepted a genuine job offer from an eligible New Brunswick employer who is willing to support your application.

2. EXPRESSION OF INTEREST (EOI)

Visit the INB portal (www.inb.gnb.ca) to create an account and submit your expression of interest (EOI). Submitting an EOI is free of charge. If you appear to meet the eligibility requirements and labour market needs, ImmigrationNB may invite you to apply.

Before submitting an EOI, make sure that you

- meet all eligibility criteria; and
- have all of your documents ready.

3. PROVINCIAL NOMINATION APPLICATION

If you receive an invitation to apply (ITA), you will have 45 calendar days to submit a complete application to ImmigrationNB and pay the processing fee through the INB portal. If you do not do so before the deadline, you will have to submit a new EOI. There is no guarantee that the new EOI will be chosen.

Receiving an ITA does not guarantee a nomination. You are responsible for ensuring that you meet all eligibility requirements before applying.

---

In the application, you will provide more details about yourself (and about your spouse or common-law partner and any dependent child, if applicable), as well as required supporting documents.

The stream cannot be changed once you have applied. Additionally, you can have only one active application with ImmigrationNB at any given moment. If you have many active applications, you will be asked to choose one and withdraw the rest. The processing fee paid will not be refunded.

4. ASSESSMENT

ImmigrationNB first checks to see if you have submitted a complete application, meaning that you have provided all of the documents and information necessary. If your application has been deemed complete, we will then assess it against the criteria outlined in this guide.

In some cases, you may be asked to provide more documents, or attend an interview, or receive a phone call from an officer to discuss your application.

You can withdraw your application.

You can voluntarily withdraw your application at any time unless there is a concern surrounding the possibility of misrepresentation.

You may receive a procedural fairness letter (PFL).

If ImmigrationNB is concerned that you may not meet all the requirements for nomination, you will receive a PFL through the INB portal. This document will explain the concerns that have arisen or request further information. You must respond to the PFL by the deadline given. ImmigrationNB will re-assess your application after this deadline and make a final decision based on the information and supporting documents you have uploaded to the INB portal before this deadline.

5. PROVINCIAL DECISION

You may be nominated.

If you meet all the requirements for nomination, you may receive a nomination certificate through the INB portal. This is the only way a certificate is issued. This certificate expires 6 months from the date it was issued. You must apply for permanent residence with Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) before its expiry date. You must maintain the conditions of your nomination while you are awaiting a decision on your permanent residence application.

Consult the Post-Nomination Guide for further instructions on what you will need to do once you are nominated by ImmigrationNB.

You may be refused.

If you cannot satisfy ImmigrationNB that you meet all the requirements for nomination, your application will be refused. You will receive a refusal letter through the INB portal.

6. FEDERAL PERMANENT RESIDENCE APPLICATION

You are responsible for your own permanent residence application. You and all of your family members must meet all of IRCC's requirements, including medical, security, and criminal checks.

7. DECISION FROM IRCC

IRCC has the final say on your permanent residence application. There is no guarantee that IRCC will approve it, even if you are nominated by ImmigrationNB.

8. LANDING

Within 30 days of receiving your signed copy of the Confirmation of Permanent Resident document, log in to the INB portal. Go to your application and click on "Report PR Landing". Complete the form as prompted.

Required documents

PREPARATION

Make sure that you have all required documents. While you don't need to provide any documents when submitting an expression of interest, you will have only 45 calendar days from the day you receive our invitation to apply to submit a complete application via INB. This time frame may not be enough if you are invited to apply and do not yet have all the necessary documents. While preparing your documents, keep the following in mind:

- You will upload your documents through your INB account in a PDF format.
- Documents with images must be in colour.
- Text-only documents may be in black and white.
- Each file can be no larger than 2 GB.
- Do not edit your documents in any way.
- Only documents in either English or French are accepted. If they are in any other language, they must be accompanied by translations.
- Documents must be clear enough to read.
- When applicable, documents must be dated and signed by applicable parties.

Your application will not be assessed and will be closed if it is missing any of the documents below. The application fee will not be refunded.

- Valid language test report that is less than 2 years old at the time of application to ImmigrationNB (if applicable).
- Proof of Canadian education or education credential assessment (ECA) for immigration purposes; the latter must be less than 5 years old at the time of application to ImmigrationNB.

TRANSLATION

You must have documents that are not in English or French translated.

- You cannot translate any document yourself.
- The translator must be an independent third-party. They cannot be your relative or anyone who works for the paid representative who is helping you with your immigration application.
- You must submit a copy of the original document and a copy of the translation.
- If the translator is certified, include proof of their certification.
- If your translator is not certified, you must also submit an affidavit for the translation.

CHECKLIST

Not all upload fields on the INB portal will be used. The documents are listed in the order you will upload them.

If your family members are included in the application, you will upload their documents when you complete their section of the application in the INB portal.

If the required proof does not exist—for instance, certain countries may not issue certain documents—provide a letter of explanation.

ImmigrationNB may request additional documents beyond those listed in this guide.
