

WHAT DOES GREEN MEAN?

New Brunswick's mandatory order ends on July 30 at 11:59 PM

The end of the mandatory order will:

Lift all travel and public health restrictions.

Lift all limits on gatherings and the number of people within facilities. Capacity limits in theatres, restaurants and stores will no longer be required.

End the requirement to wear face masks in public.

Lift all provincial border restrictions including border checks. Registration will no longer be required to enter New Brunswick from anywhere in Canada. Federal border restrictions will remain in effect.

While we know we will still be living with COVID-19, New Brunswickers are encouraged to continue practising protective health measures like:

Getting vaccinated against COVID-19

Hand-washing

Coughing in your elbow

Staying home when sick

Get tested if you have COVID-19 symptoms
