

Cancer screening is part of a healthy lifestyle.

New Brunswick offers organized cancer screening programs for breast, cervical and colon cancer. These programs are focused on prevention and early detection of cancer.

BREAST CANCER

- Who: Women, trans men or gender diverse people aged 40 to 74
- What: Mammogram
- When: Every one to two years for people aged 40 to 49 and every two to three years for people aged 50 to 74
- How: Contact a breast cancer screening site

CERVICAL CANCER

- Who: Women, trans men or gender diverse people with a cervix aged 25 to 69 who have ever been sexually active
- What: Pap test
- When: Yearly until three negative tests in a row. Then, every three years
- How: Talk to a doctor or nurse practitioner or contact a cervical screening clinic

COLON CANCER

- Who: People aged 50 to 74
- What: Fecal immunochemical test, also called a FIT
- When: Every two years
- How: To find out if a FIT is the right screening test for you, fill out the questionnaire you got in the mail or call 1-844-777-3443

Regardless of your age, talk to a doctor or nurse practitioner if you have any symptoms, concerns, or a family history of cancer.

Visit GNB.CA/Screening or call 1-844-777-3443 for more information.

Privacy Statement:

The New Brunswick Cancer Screening Programs collect, use and disclose participants' name, address, birth date and Health Care Number, along with the necessary clinical screening information, to monitor screening activity, determine eligibility and invite New Brunswickers to participate in cancer screening programs and services.

If you want more information about your privacy rights, please send an email to: cpobpvp@gnb.ca.